Introduction

Your Solar Return chart is a snapshot of the heavens at the moment that the Sun returns to its natal position each year. The chart is cast for the exact date and time of day for this event, which might be one day before or after your actual birthday. Note that an accurate birthtime for your own chart is necessary for an accurate Solar Return chart. This chart speaks to your year, from birthday to birthday. Analysing the planetary positions, and the aspects that they make to each other, gives extremely accurate and valuable information regarding the qualities and the key challenges for this year-long period of time. The feeling of this new Solar Return phase kicks in a few months before your birthday each year.

Sun, Moon, Rising Sign Features

Sun in Aries (17° Ari 22' 23")

Sun in the Tenth House

Angular planet - conjunct Midheaven

The Sun is the most important planet to consider in a Solar Return chart since it tells you where and how you're likely to focus your basic energy over this twelve-month period until your next birthday. With the Sun placed in the Tenth House, the emphasis is on your professional endeavors and your personal path toward success.

Indeed, success is strongly indicated for you over the next twelve months. This is the house of fame, career, reputation and honors. With the solar energy placed there for this year-long period, your basic vitality is likely to be recognized in new and important ways and your professional drive magnified. Opportunities will be everywhere you turn. If you've been making a conscious effort to improve yourself in career matters, the rewards are assured.

If you have not been actively focusing on career advancement you could have a certain amount of frustration this year as you will need to realign your identity with your profession. You may decide to become your own boss or need to resolve issues with your current boss or another authority figure in your life.

You are likely to find yourself thrust into public view somehow over the course of this year. If your reputation is strong it is an indication of potential glory. If you have been less than honorable about something however, it's likely to be brought to light.

Either way, over these twelve months, your focus is on your vocation and calling in life. In the highest manifestation, rather than reveling in your personal power, you will be actively concerned with the power that you have to shape and improve society around you.

Sun in quintile

(fading, 0.6 degrees) with Mars

Ruler of sun sign - Sun's ruler

The planetary energies are positively linked, subtle, and spiritual in dimension.

With the Sun in minor flowing aspect to Mars in your Solar Return chart, over the twelve-month period until your next birthday there is an emphasis on asserting your identity with increased vitality and force, but in a relatively gentle way that will not seem overbearing.

There is every indication for success, especially with projects that have a spiritual dimension to them. If you initiate one this year that requires exuberance, drive and ambition to complete you are likely to do well with it.

There is also some potential for anger to manifest this year, although you will also have a good sense of control regarding outbursts. It is more likely that will channel this increased vitality, achieving more than you could initially conceive.

This is likely to be a year for you to combine your powers of assertion and courage towards self-development. You will fight for your right to express the very essence of who you are and there is every indication that you will do so.

Sun in semi-sextile

(forming, 2.1 degrees) with Neptune

Sole dispositor of chart planets

The planetary energies attract each other, require effort, allow entry of new information.

With the Sun in minor flowing aspect to Neptune in your Solar Return chart, over the twelve-month period until your next birthday the emphasis is on your awareness of your sensitive side and your sense of spirituality.

It is possible that you could find yourself with less ego this year, and a greater sense of numinous otherworldly planes of existence. You could also become involved with media, visual arts, music or poetry, since all of these can be expressions of your connection to Spirit. Any of these representations of the divine could become a factor for you over the course of this year-long period. This is most likely to be experienced in the area represented by the house where your Sun or where Neptune is placed.

The positive manifestation of this energy lies in an enhanced sense of compassion and a feeling of oneness with the universe and everyone around you. You could make spiritual progress this year, or at least feel that you more fully access the spark of divinity that lies inside you.

Moon in Virgo (27° Vir 36' 42")

Moon in the Third House

Focal planet of planetary pattern

The Moon in your Solar Return chart indicates an area of emotional intensity and challenge, which is also part of a process of purposeful evolution. There is progress from year to year, so that this year's placement builds on earlier ones. With the Moon in the Third House, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday you will be emotionally invested in communication and learning. This could be a challenging year for you to reconcile your thoughts with your emotions but it is exactly what you must attempt to do.

During this year-long period, you will continuously find yourself in situations where you try to rationalize your feelings and think instead of feel. The temptation to run away from your deepest feelings will be strong at times, and this tug of war between logic and intuition can be draining. You might eventually come to the idea that there is a place for both influences in your life. You benefit when you learn to honor both the conscious and unconscious mind.

It's easy for your emotions to diversify right now. Over the course of these twelve months, vacillating feelings about someone close to you could come up for investigation. It's also possible that you may discover a deep emotional connection with more than one person and then spend endless hours questioning it.

There is also the potential during this year for you to become more emotionally connected to children, your siblings or your local geographical neighborhood. Some changes in a sibling's or neighbor's life may prove to be quite significant for you.

This is the most brilliant energy for communicating your feelings and ideas to others. If you are a writer or teacher or even just plan to learn something new this year, the thoughts and the words you need will come instinctively at the perfect moments. In the end you will have a better sense of yourself at all levels.

Moon in strong trine (fading, 2.6 degrees) with Jupiter

The planetary energies flow smoothly; the connection is easy and beneficial.

With the Moon in flowing aspect to Jupiter in your Solar Return chart, over these twelve months leading up to your next birthday, your emotional emphasis is on expansion as well as enjoying a better sense of instinctive faith in yourself.

Your emotions may be powerful and joyful over the course of this year-long period since more of everything is one of Jupiter's favorite themes. As a result, you could well experience an amazing level of soul growth.

It's likely that you will feel a strong degree of emotion this year. Your sensitivity is enhanced while your faith in the good of mankind and the universe is abundantly present. Your enthusiasm and sense of hope is likely to be quite inspiring.

You are indeed rich in faith and idealism right now. The conviction that rainbows are behind every cloud will be likely to color your attitude over these twelve months.

Your values and ethics are also deeply felt this year. There is a sense of dignity and wisdom that surrounds your soul. You may find that you search for increased security during this period but if you do so it will be in the most moral way possible. An instinctive knowledge of the spiritual workings of the universe is available to you for the asking.

Moon in strong trine
(fading, 2.7 degrees) with Pluto
Leading planet of planetary pattern

The planetary energies flow smoothly; the connection is easy and beneficial.

With the Moon in flowing aspect to Pluto in your Solar Return chart, over these twelve months leading up to your next birthday, your emotional emphasis is on better understanding your own unconscious psychological motivations. Aligning your emotions and instincts could involve others around you in issues of control.

There are likely to be many subtle emotionally charged undercurrents in your life over the course of this year, particularly in matters having to do with the house or houses where these two planets reside. You might need to overcome feeling stifled in this area, or encounter threats to your emotional well-being and sense of security.

Perhaps you will have to confront a relationship where you are being emotionally blackmailed; or it is also possible that you are the one doing the manipulation. It helps when you can recognize that these emotional games are the sign of deeper psychological battles in which one person attempts to control the other only in order to preserve their own sense of security.

This is an important year for you, and one in which your emotional strength is great. There are undoubtedly lessons for you in terms of embracing the need to be in control of your own situation and at the same time to use your power wisely. There could also be dramatic transformations in your security needs and your emotional connections to others. It's up to you to make certain that these changes, rather than enabling a power hungry persona, engender instead a newly empowered sense of self.

Moon in opposition
(fading, 4.4 degrees) with Mercury

The planetary energies are polarized; outer events stimulate their interaction; integration is the challenge.

With the Moon in dynamic aspect to Mercury in these twelve months leading up to your next birthday, your emotional emphasis is on connecting your thoughts and your feelings. Your mind and feelings may not always work together as a team, for better or worse.

Over this year it's likely that you will be attempt to use a logical frame of reference to understand the reasons behind your emotions and instinctual patterns with varying degrees of success. In some instances the tension that is created in this way will be a creative tension, so that good ideas and even art can result.

This is a good time to journal your thoughts, feelings, and especially your dreams. The power of intellect could work in your favor now to translate the symbolic meaning behind your unconscious images so that they come into view.

It's also possible that this will be a year you will make decisions using your instincts as a guide over your intellect. Sensitive communication will be a hallmark for you over these twelve months. While this will enhance your receptivity, this strong connection could work against you, if you allow your emotions to overpower your rationality. On the other hand you might observe your mind attempting to trivialize your feelings.

These disparate parts of yourself can blend well with effort. Your powers of observation and memory can pull you through so that your common sense in the end serves you well.

Moon in trine (forming, 5.1 degrees) with Venus

The planetary energies flow smoothly; the connection is easy and beneficial.

With the Moon in flowing aspect to Venus in your Solar Return chart, over these twelve months leading up to your next birthday, your emotional emphasis is on your feelings in relation to your financial and relationship security.

It is possible that your finances could fluctuate dramatically - either to your benefit or to your detriment, over the course of this year-long period, The values you adhere to could also become a focus and an area of change, as well as the relationships in your life.

Emotional fulfillment can be achieved this year through financial or relationship harmony. If there is an imbalance, your moods could tend to become difficult. Your own emotions might depend too much on the emotional well being of those close to you.

It could also be a year that you are financially dependent on someone. If this is the case, having this dependency might wear on your sense of security and affect you emotionally.

In relationships this year you may long for the deepest type of romantic connection.

You're likely to become emotionally attached to someone whether or not you are already taken. If you are happy in your existing relationship then the domestic and peaceful feelings of love with that person are likely to be strengthened.

Moon in trine (forming, 3.4 degrees) with Saturn

The planetary energies flow smoothly; the connection is easy and beneficial.

With the Moon in flowing aspect to Saturn in your Solar Return chart, over these twelve months leading up to your next birthday, there is an emphasis on building better emotional boundaries for yourself.

This works for you rather than against you, although there could be difficulty involved and you might feel emotionally cold and distant. Over the course of this year-long period you are likely to feel that you are in some sense isolated and forced to be self-reliant.

Your feelings are likely to be more sober than expansive. Rather than feeling emotionally secure, you might tend towards feeling insecure and work hard to correct it. You might also perceive that your feelings are repressed. There is an important necessity underlying this repression, and you benefit long-term because of it. You could find through your work what it is more usual to find through others.

In the process of experiencing some level of emotional inhibition you can therefore become more dependable and better able to realistically assess complex feelings. You can move through these emotions, and come to a better sense of yourself and your inner workings. Although this might seem like a lonely path at times, the experiences of this year will reward you with the confidence you gain by making your own way.

The ruler of your Sun Sign is Mars in Aquarius (4° Aqu 48')

The ruler of your Sun sign is characteristic of your personality. Mars in your Solar Return chart indicates an area of outwardly expressed energy and focus over this twelve-month period until your next birthday. With Mars in the Seventh House, you have ambitious goals within partnership this year and it's likely you will place a great deal of personal energy into your relationships or work to achieve in joint efforts with persons close to you.

A partner might also be the catalyst to feed your energy this year and help to motivate and light the fire inside that is necessary to keep on charging forward with your goals. Over these twelve months they could supply the inspiration for you to shine.

There is also however a great potential for arguments and more conflict than usual with partners. There could be anger that arises over the other person being unsupportive of your own identity assertion. You may feel stifled in your attempts to succeed outside of the relationship. It's also possible that fights may come up over nothing in particular that you can define; the energy surrounding you and others is simply combative at this time. Competition can be a positive driving force in certain situations but you will want to be aware of crossing the line of healthy competition this year in your partnerships. You might want to ask yourself if winning is more important than the relationship.

This is actually a good year to mediate an angry relationship through counseling. You can also successfully fight a necessary battle with enemies in business or personal life right now since your will to defend yourself against others is strong. Use this energy wisely and it will produce positive returns for you.

Important Features

Pluto in Capricorn (24° Cap 54')

Pluto in the Sixth House

Leading planet of planetary pattern

With Pluto placed in the sixth house of your Solar Return chart, over the twelve-month period leading to your next birthday there is an emphasis on transformation and regeneration of your work, everyday routines and your health in general.

There might be a radically transformative series of changes that takes place in your work environment over the course of this year-long period, such as a relocation or a renovation of office space. Or perhaps a more profound destabilization will take place with a restructure of the administration. The damage to your routine could affect your sense of well being, but it helps to keep a positive attitude and look to the bright side of what these types of thoroughgoing changes might bring.

It's also wise to be extra attentive to your health this year. You could find that you obsess over refining your health habits or digging down deep into possible ailments. You also might be able to break out of a bad health pattern by sheer force. You could gain a profound understanding of the total picture of mind, body and spirit connection. You could be prone to being somewhat workaholic this year perhaps because of an increased desire on your part to be useful or simply through runaway compulsivity. If you use this energy negatively, you can become trapped in power struggles between co-workers or employees. Be wary of insisting that your way is the only way. Effective real-world practice is your key to positive transformation.

In regard to your job, you may decide this year to assert more power in terms of the duties that you habitually perform; your will is strong now in this area and more authority, control and influence could come your way. This is a great time to apply your inner resolve to generate resourceful changes in your work environment as well as in your other day-to-day activities including healthy diet or exercise habits. This is a year of doing, with the fundamental understanding that to do leads you toward a more inclusive sense of just being.

Chiron in Aries (6° Ari 04')

Chiron in the Ninth House

Angular planet - conjunct Midheaven

Chiron in your Solar Return chart indicates an area of difficulty that is likely to come up over this twelve-month period until your next birthday where there will be also an opportunity to heal. With Chiron placed in the Ninth House this year, the healing emphasis is on issues of higher mind.

Chiron in the Ninth House of your Solar Return chart indicates that it is possible over the course of this year-long period of time for you to encounter painful feelings regarding abstracting and understanding universal truth. There might be some form of painful realization surrounding your habitual attitude toward the pursuit of wisdom, or perhaps in the area of philosophy or religion. It may be that parental figures had different notions than you did of how the world makes sense, but for one reason or another you didn't take them on. This is a subtle placement and you might find you are only slightly aware of these types of issues as they come up.

This might also be the year that you develop a more inclusive philosophical basis regarding the dark parts of yourself that you have walled away or avoided as unpleasant. It may be that parental influences or the influence of a parental-like authority figure tended to force you in a particular direction that you had no real calling for, perhaps the common ideals of consensus reality, and you were left with the painful decision of which to abandon, your parental guidepost, or your own understanding. These hidden places within you stem from early childhood, when trauma was sustained without the possibility of properly dealing with it at the time.

It is also possible for there to be issues that only now come to light regarding scholastic achievement. You might be high-functioning in this area, but it could be that nagging doubts that you are not really good enough have spurred you on, rather than a pure love of learning. In any case it will be an excellent year for exploring the dark places within you and moving toward acceptance and healing in these areas.

Neptune in Pisces (19° Pis 28')

Neptune in the Ninth House

Sole dispositor of chart planets

With Neptune placed in the ninth house of your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period leading up to your next birthday there is a spiritual emphasis on expanding your consciousness based on your inner faith and convictions. It is a time when you are inclined to believe what you cannot see.

Your faith in a divine power is likely to take on a significant personal importance to you this year. You are able to accept more on faith alone than ever before. You might even stumble upon a variety of momentous sacred experience that will revolutionize your approach to Spirit. You benefit when you are willing to yield to the guidance that you feel deriving from your innermost being.

Since your capacity for idealization is so strong, it is also possible that along this path of personal enlightenment you may suffer illusions regarding a particular belief system to a certain extent and see only the good. This may potentially set you up for hurt or disappointment as this plays out in the actual circumstances of continuing to espouse these beliefs or in attempting to spread your beliefs to others.

To that end, it is possible for other people to misguide you or deceive you into believing their doctrine is the ultimate truth. There is also the potential for this to manifest itself in dicey legal issues, where ethics are misconstrued.

This is a year when you might choose to expand your consciousness through intellectual pursuits or travel. There could be some uncertainty concerning where you want to go and what you want to study. You do best to allow your inner voice to guide you in these matters. It also helps when you can recognize that while higher love and goodness is your purest intention, the real world can also intervene, leading to mixed results. You win when you are able to temporize your high ideals by balancing your love for higher truth with a healthy dose of practicality also.

Saturn in Aquarius (1° Aqu 00')Saturn in the Seventh House*Angular planet - conjunct Descendant

Saturn in your Solar Return chart indicates an area of additional responsibility and concentration, perhaps contraction, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday. With Saturn placed in the Seventh House this year, there will likely be an emphasis on gaining clarity in your partnerships through reviewing the manner in which you relate to others. You may also find greater depth of commitment toward partners in your life over the course of this twelve-month period.

If you are married or involved in a pre-existing business partnership then you will likely face these committed relationships with greater responsibility. You could feel burdened by a partner's needs but your feelings of devotion are apt to be enduring nonetheless. If you are single there is likely to be a change in the way that you regard partnership in your life. You could be on the lookout for greater commitment potential, or become aware of your need or fear of commitment. When you attempt to form new partnerships this year any and all of these considerations might apply, so that you could become buried under the weight of the responsibility it brings or else willingly adjust to the pressure of greater involvement.

It's also possible that this is a year when you will feel personally limited in some capacity because of your partner. Resistance can come up in partners as you attempt to give focus to the details and structure of your relationship. It's also possible for you and a partner to face your problems directly over the course of these twelve months and apply qualities of realism in order to gain more stability and security together. Accepting inherent restriction and acting in a practical way to address it is one way to ensure lasting love for many years to come.

Jupiter in Capricorn (25° Cap 04')Jupiter in the Sixth House*Angular planet - conjunct Descendant

Jupiter in your Solar Return chart indicates an area of positive attitude and favorable circumstances over this twelve-month period until your next birthday. With Jupiter placed in the Sixth House, you can expect an expansion in terms of daily life and the work that you do, as well as an idealized focus on your calling.

In terms of health, these twelve months could prove to be quite beneficial. You might decide to expand your awareness of health practices in general or learn more about mind, body and spirit connections. However, since Jupiter expands whatever it touches, there is also the potential for your diet and habits to move in the direction of greater and greater excess, especially if this is a path that you are already on. If you become aware that this is the case, there is still time to reverse this tendency by using your acute powers of the higher mind that is yours to apply to this important area of your life.

It's also probable that your workload will increase, but at the same time you will find greater fulfillment in your job and even in relationships with your co-workers or employees. Although you will be busy, it is not likely that you will mind. There is a strong capacity for you to find joy through work this year.

In addition to your normal work, you might decide to be of service in other ways. There is great potential for an enhanced perspective tending toward a sense of duty toward others that could prompt you to take on a more active role in helping those in need. You also might develop over the course of this year a new sense of your mission that you came into this lifetime to fulfill.

Mercury in Pisces (23° Pis 12')

Mercury in the Ninth House

Mercury in your Solar Return chart indicates an area of mental intensity and focus over this twelve-month period until your next birthday. With Mercury in the Ninth House, you are stimulated toward learning something that will affect your thought process in a far-reaching and expansive way.

This year-long period is likely to be a time of intense focus on teaching and learning, and communicating your knowledge to others. You may return to school, or you may in other ways concentrate your attention on the acquisition of information in a classroom setting, or through independent study, but in any case the important emphasis on your mind this year is the advancement of learning.

Your need is strong this year to affect thought and spread wisdom far and wide. You may be looked at as the expert on a certain subject matter simply because you're so enthusiastic about your material. If you are a writer, this year might be a good one to approach a publisher or to plan to promote your work in some other way such as through the Internet. All forms of broadcasting will be a subject that interests you and that provides much food for thought during this twelve-month period.

Your beliefs in general are the object of your mental process during this year. This could be a time when you will crystallize a philosophical outlook or investigate and analyze new forms of intellectual pursuit. You might also look into other cultures at this time or research travel options that will enable you to visit them. The subject of your mental investigation will serve to bring your consciousness along to its next phase, whatever meaning that may turn out to have for you personally.

Venus in Gemini (2° Gem 40')

Venus in the Eleventh House

Venus in your Solar Return chart indicates an area of relationship intensity and focus over this twelve-month period until your next birthday. With Venus in the Eleventh House, you are likely to seek social interaction in a variety of places rather than just in one primary relationship. This includes friendships in your life and group associations that you favor.

There is a strong drive for freedom in relationship at this time that may lead to involvement with a wider circle, or perhaps attractions outside of a committed partnership. You might for example fall for a friend. The connection you have with someone who you would define as a pal or acquaintance may take on added significance. You are somewhat detached emotionally during this period, so that deep involvement is not your strong suit.

It's also likely that friends, or perhaps a group you are part of, will be instrumental in bringing out your talents and abilities this year, increasing your sense of self-worth. Friends might also prove instrumental in helping you to achieve your goals, financial or otherwise. Group interactions could provide opportunities for professional advancement.

This is also a good year for financial growth from your chosen profession. If you are self employed, you may consider increasing your rates or it may be an excellent time to ask for a raise.

In general, friends and acquaintances believe in you right now and help to inspire you. You will value the concept of networking over the course of this year-long period, and will tend to promote humanitarian goals through social action. You may be involved in group demonstrations or peaceful protests. What you believe in is not going to be kept to yourself, and gains larger significance when it is shared.

Uranus in Taurus (5° Tau 29')

Uranus in the Tenth House

Uranus in your Solar Return chart indicates an area of enlightenment, change and freedom-seeking activity over this twelve-month period until your next birthday. With Uranus placed in the tenth house this year, the emphasis for unexpected change is in your professional endeavors, status and reputation, as well as your destiny.

It is likely that you will experience dramatic changes in your life path this year. In many cases this indicates a total career upheaval. Regardless of the chaos, you will discover what vocation you are meant to be pursuing. In some cases you will need to combine a career change with relocation.

If you remain in the same profession you might experience a great deal of disruption with an authority figure. If this happens it might be at your own provocation since the desire to have more freedom might conflict with your boss.

Your honor or reputation might go through some ups and downs this year. It is possible for you to express your need for freedom in such a public way that others see you as unsteady and unreliable rather than progressive.

It's likely that if your career status does not change, your personal status will. Divorce is one possible scenario, or some type of break from what is usually a more stable living situation.

If you use this energy to embrace the changes in your life and understand they are meant to help you move closer towards your highest calling, it's will be easier for you to go with the ebb and flow this year.

Other Natal Planets

Other Aspects

Mercury in strong sextile (forming, 1.9 degrees) with Jupiter

The planetary energies flow together, open into new possibilities, new connections.

With Mercury in flowing aspect to Jupiter in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period leading up to your next birthday your mental emphasis reflects an expansion of consciousness. During this year-long period as your soul reaches for the stars you might also have to beware of too great a regard for your mind's prowess.

If you are considering a return to school or taking up some new course of study, this will be a favorable year to do so. You will also likely garner superior results from all variety of communication projects such as writing, teaching, public speaking or sales.

You might also want to be aware of the potential for an overactive mind causing you to take on too much or branch out in too many directions all at once, so that you wind up being overwhelmed. Despite this possibility there is every indication of astounding success with higher mind activities this year.

You are apt to explore philosophy, religion, language or other cultures in some capacity. You could find yourself caught up in a great interest in ethics and justice. As you search for meaning in your life, you will likely place yourself on the path of coming to a better idea of what you are up to.

In conversation you're likely to overflow with enthusiasm. The glass will appear to be half full at all times. You have a terrific ability to strategize and think yourself into accomplishment right now. During this year, a positive outlook provides for great advancement and success using the powers of your mind.

Mercury in strong sextile (forming, 1.7 degrees) with Pluto

The planetary energies flow together, open into new possibilities, new connections.

With Mercury in flowing aspect to Pluto in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period leading up to your next birthday your mental emphasis is on your ability to penetrate consciously into the deepest levels of your own and others' needs and desires.

Over the course of this year-long period, you have the ability to see deeply into your own desire nature, and to feel and respond to the motivations of others around you.

With unconscious desires so near the surface of your awareness, it might feel at times as though words hardly need to be spoken. You are very sensitive to the undercurrents of communication, such as body language, and can trust your instinctive understanding. Your end of the communication might also come into the picture as a factor, since there is the possibility for unconscious material from your own psyche to spill over into consciousness and manifest in direct language.

The power of your words and your observations are true gifts for you now. If you are confident in their application and proceed in alignment with your own highest purpose, there will be much gain, both spiritual and material. The ability to use your willpower to control your thoughts and mindset is also likely to hold a deep fascination for you at this time.

You can harness this exquisite awareness of thoughts and motives to gain priceless insight into your own behavior and the complexity within your relationships. Your mind is inquiring this year, and is seeking to transform itself along lines that are more favorable to your evolutionary purpose in this lifetime. The knowledge that you gain regarding yourself and others can inform your process of growth for years to come.

Venus in strong trine (forming, 2.1 degrees) with Mars

The planetary energies flow smoothly; the connection is easy and beneficial.

With Venus in flowing aspect to Mars in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday, the emphasis is on integrating your desires and actions with your social and relationship needs. The energy to partner with another is strong. It's likely you will encounter relationship issues in a year that is about asserting harmony and working together with partners to achieve common goals. This would be true for either a business or a personal partnership. The two of you might work together in order to achieve a mutually significant objective.

Over the course of this year-long period, the theme of give and take in relationships is certain to become more significant for you. This is potentially a good year for you to pursue financial goals. Initiative is key for you right now, relevant to the themes of both relationships and money. The harder you work for what you want the more you will be rewarded.

It's also quite likely that the dichotomy between love and sex becomes a factor during this period. Your emotional relationship needs will tend to blend harmoniously and to work together with your sensuality and your sexuality.

This is a year when you are encouraged to go for what you truly want, in love and other areas. If your relationship energy has been on a rocky path lately, this year might bring peace. It is also possible for you to reach harmony through conflict. Either way, you gain the most when nothing is held back.

Venus in strong trine (fading, 1.7 degrees) with Saturn

The planetary energies flow smoothly; the connection is easy and beneficial.

With Venus in flowing aspect to Saturn in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday the emphasis is on creating boundaries and a sense of realism within the context of relationships.

If your partnership was heading in a positive direction up until this year, it will likely become more stable and enduring. If, however, the relationship was already on shaky ground, then this year could be the time when you have to play catch up, defining for yourselves exactly what your priorities and agreements are. If you are not currently in relationship, this year will could represent a time of inner work that ends up making you more ready for finding someone, if that is your goal. It is always a good idea to find happiness just being on your own.

You might also feel restricted in terms of finances this year. You could have fewer funds to work with, for a variety of reasons. Or, it could also be that you deny yourself the nicer things in life because of diligently budgeting your money or saving for something important. In terms of your self-worth, you could find that you deny yourself a love experience because you are feeling unworthy on some level.

This year will bring you lasting value in terms of eventual understanding, but you must work for it. Expressing affection could be slower to appear but longer lasting as a result. You are more likely than ever to be cautious, because you take love and communication more seriously during this period. Your sense of duty, responsibility and expectation in matters of money and relationship are certain to become more clearly defined through the course of this year.

Mars in strong square (forming, 0.7 degrees) with Uranus

The planetary energies conflict; internal and creative tensions bring rich rewards through effort over time.

With Mars in dynamic aspect to Uranus in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday your energy to innovate will be strong, mixed with major adjustments and upheaval. You will actively pursue your own personal revolution. This can be an unstable energy pattern to work with. There is the possibility for it to manifest in forms of reckless action. In particular, this year you should be cautious about unexpected accidents and mishaps. These accidents are likely to be as a result of your own hidden anger coming to the surface so that it seems almost like an urge to self-destruct. This makes it very important to remain as aware as you can of exactly what unconscious frustrations you might be feeling.

You're likely to fight for your right to keep on changing your style and being free, no matter what others might think about you. The urge to express your individuality is dominant over the course of this year. You might be tempted to pull the rug out from under your previously status quo world. Due to your own radical actions, your life may change in ways that you were not even aware that you had in you.

You are rebellious and inventive all at once and therefore life can be full of surprises this year, as you break down barriers to growth. It's a challenge, but if you make the conscious effort to work through obstacles and allow this powerful energy to take you where you already needed to go, then you can transform your life path, channeling your actions into positive transformation.

Mars in strong sextile
(forming, 1.3 degrees) with Chiron

The planetary energies flow together, open into new possibilities, new connections.

With Mars in flowing aspect to Chiron in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday there is an emphasis on healing deep-seated wounds you may have regarding self-assertion.

This is a year when you might find that painful issues emerge with the way that you assert your will. In the past you might have been afraid of really stepping out and showing yourself in your true colors, for a variety of reasons, and this could be the year that you get closer to acknowledging this past, and finally moving beyond it. What comes forward into the light of day for better understanding and acceptance may also include problems in handling aggression from others.

It could be that these types of issues stem from early experiences either as a child with parental trauma or as a young person dealing with your peers. It's likely that you will now confront your own past wounds in this area in a more assertive and proactive way. You are beginning to learn firsthand how to become more assertive, not from the standpoint of bluff and bluster, but rather from the standpoint of a deeper sense of self-confidence.

Jupiter in strong conjunction (fading, 0.2 degrees) with Pluto

The strongest blend of the energies represented by these two planets.

With Jupiter conjunct or in dynamic aspect to Pluto in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday, the emphasis is on your will and your ability to transform. This year you will very likely go through some major changes. There are likely to be challenges but you will have the resources to handle them, and a wellspring of inner reserve that can get you through just about anything.

While it's likely that you'll be asked to dig deeply into your psyche this year, the potential you have for growth as a result is unsurpassed. Your ability to deal with problems is quite strong, and while control issues can arise this can also lead to healing of these issues. There is definitely the potential for you to misuse your significant powers if you aren't careful. You may become obsessive or focus on power and control in your life or the seeming lack of it. When you overdo in this direction you foster the expansion of your own personal dark abyss, and yet when you consciously work with this energy you assure that positive transformation can indeed take place.

The changes that transpire over the course of this year might test you, but coming out the other side will affect your faith in yourself in a way that is ultimately positive. Honestly confronting your demons enriches your soul.

Mercury in conjunction (fading, 3.7 degrees) with Neptune

The strongest blend of the energies represented by these two planets.

With Mercury conjunct Neptune in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period leading up to your next birthday your mental emphasis is on cultivating a compassionate sense of oneness with others, and connecting your mind with your heart.

Your imagination, sensitivity and creativity soar this year. It's a wonderful time to pursue any type of activity combining visual or musical ability with communication and mind, such as art, photography, music or poetry.

This is also a year when compassion and idealism could become paramount in your thought process, replacing down-to-earth practicality. The potential is there for you to become lost in fantasies, or to over-idealize your thinking to the point of self-deception. It pays to be cautious about a possible lack of realism concerning your own communication or how others treat you. Facts are variable with mere logic taking second place to a somewhat nebulous sense of idealism.

You might also find that you require conscious effort and eye opening to get to the bottom of events experienced this year. There is an elusive nature to your thoughts right now that may sidetrack cogent analysis.

On the other hand, this is also a year when you are capable of exceptional spiritual awareness including psychic sensitivity into the true motivations of others. Your inspired mind can be put to good use as long as appropriate safeguards are kept in place. This could very well be your best year - one in which you embrace your true potential and begin to explore more fully the spiritual essence of your life vision.

Venus in quintile (fading, 1.2 degrees) with Neptune

The planetary energies are positively linked, subtle, and spiritual in dimension.

With Venus in minor flowing aspect to Neptune in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday there is an emphasis on spirituality in relationship. An otherworldly art form could claim part of your awareness over this period of time. You may find yourself to be more sympathetic to spiritual values than to flesh and blood partners; or you may feel the desire for an elusive soul mate connection that does not easily find its resolution.

You could wind up meeting someone over the course of this year-long period that makes you certain that you've found your cosmic other half, so that the two of you generate sparks of the divine each time you connect. This can also happen with an existing partner. It is also possible that you feel completely lost in your connection, as being more ethereal than realistic. Equally, your relationship could reach a new level of mutual compassion.

The positive side of this aspect is the potential for you to see the divine through your experience or through the eyes of your partner, which can be wonderful. It benefits you to remember to balance the equation by taking account of the human side as well.

Venus in sextile (forming, 3.4 degrees) with Chiron

The planetary energies flow together, open into new possibilities, new connections.

With Venus in flowing aspect to Chiron in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday there is an emphasis on absorbing the lessons of any relationship trauma that you might have experienced in your early life, and on using your spiritual and receptive skills to assimilate a higher and more integrated viewpoint. It is possible that over the course of this year you will have experiences that call your attention to early woundings in the area of one-on-one partnership. These experiences, while painful, might serve to connect you more fully to your own deeper issues, and to allow you to go beyond the pain into acceptance of yourself in all your parts. Your emotions and your ability to heal are fundamental to your nature and can no longer be denied.

In terms of romance you have the potential to encounter a truly healing intimacy with another. Ancient wounds that are exhibited also in past relationships are likely to be brought up for the purpose of understanding them and moving beyond them. You will no longer be complacent with old patterns that have held you back from the fullest expression of your love.

Your values and your sense of self-worth are also likely to be perceived from a more spiritual perspective as this year unfolds. Money might not be as important to you as you used to think. All of your relationships, romantic or otherwise, will provide helpful guideposts when you look at them right.

You might have an almost erotic connection to the universe at this time. You benefit when you learn to acknowledge your intense receptivity to others so that you can channel your relationship energy in a tangible way that leads to profound and lasting healing.

Mars in conjunction (fading, 3.8 degrees) with Saturn

The strongest blend of the energies represented by these two planets.

With Mars conjunct or in dynamic aspect to Saturn in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday your energy will be put to work to create structure and focus for your activity.

It's likely that over the course of this year you become disciplined and adept in achieving your goals. This is not a year when you will be intimidated by hard work. In fact, you might be inclined to dive into whatever is asked of you.

It could also be that you work to overcome certain feelings of frustration and limitation this year. You might be more anxious to move ahead with plans than it turns out to be possible. It can feel as if you're driving with one foot on the gas pedal and the other on the brake. Or you might simply feel that, due to your current circumstances, you're not free to act. There seems to be a wall in front of you each time you try. Progress can still be made, although slowly. However, the results will be longer lasting.

This energy can be used to your eventual benefit as you learn to condense your forceful output and work only toward that which is truly necessary to achieve your goals. Taking an organized approach to your endeavors will serve you well this year. You can in the end be extremely productive and efficient under this influence.

Jupiter in quintile (fading, 1.0 degrees) with Chiron

The planetary energies are positively linked, subtle, and spiritual in dimension.

With Jupiter in minor flowing aspect to Chiron in the Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday, the emphasis is on your ability to truly heal.

This is a year when your inner childhood wounds might be calling out to you for increased recognition and acceptance. Simply the recognition of these formerly walled-off parts of yourself is an important step, and leads to acceptance and healing.

This is also a year in which your belief systems might be called into question. You might find yourself reorganizing your thinking with respect to the beliefs that have come down to you through your parental heritage, so that instead of accepting these without questioning them you must instead go your own way and work the ore from your own mines.

This is also apt to be a year in which you heal through your own creative expansion. Spirit is working through you in a variety of self-expressive ways. It helps to remember that the greatest teachers in life also remain eternal students. They know the cup of wisdom can never be filled.

Uranus in semi-sextile (fading, 0.6 degrees) with Chiron

The planetary energies attract each other, require effort, allow entry of new information.

With Uranus in minor flowing Chiron in your Solar Return chart, over these twelve months leading up to your next birthday, the emphasis is on using your most individuated self to reexamine any traumas that might still be lurking in your subconscious and move beyond these ancient wounds toward healing.

You have the power to engage in a massive movement of healing with the potential to assist humanity in the process. The required insight and the courage to pursue it could come over you quite suddenly, some time during the course of this year.

You could possibly find alternative or eccentric methods to help cure your soul. You might also discover insight into the painful places of anyone else that you might encounter. There is also the potential for you to discover that your individuality has caused you in the past break away from having to address healing and soul growth altogether. This could be the year that you recognize and address this issue.

Pluto in quintile (forming, 0.8 degrees) with Chiron

The planetary energies are positively linked, subtle, and spiritual in dimension.

With Pluto in flowing aspect to Chiron in your Solar Return chart, over this next twelve month period the emphasis is on healing that comes to you through having to dwell into the most purely intense and terrifying depths of your greatest fears and scars, past and present.

It might be of help to look to the matters ruled by the houses in which these planets are placed, which describe the area where your most intense experience is likely to occur. If you make the effort in the times of your greatest need to intimately connect with the deeper part of yourself and access its potency then you can heal from dysfunctional patterning and find the path of renewal.

It is possible to increase your level of awareness this year with regard to ancient trauma that has been walled away and which is no longer serving your highest good. Accepting and then letting go of controlling and manipulative habitual behavior can actually promote self-healing through understanding, and this is the major message of this powerful year for you.

Sun in weak square (forming, 7.7 degrees) with Jupiter

The planetary energies conflict; internal and creative tensions bring rich rewards through effort over time.

With the Sun in dynamic aspect to Jupiter in your Solar Return chart, over the twelve-month period until your next birthday the emphasis is on expanding your personality and identity into a more enlightened awareness.

You might experience a great deal of success and reward this year. You also could experience an over-expansion with resulting losses. If you triumph it's likely that a renewed sense of faith and optimism in yourself will be the catalyst. In addition, your personal philosophy, sense of spirituality and belief system will likely be important factors in your growth. You also might find that others either personify good fortune for you or place conflicts in the way of your obtaining it.

The department in which these gains and increased self-confidence will take place depends on the house where the Sun is located. This area of life could also witness an over-expansion as well, so that it is prudent to maintain a sense of cautious rather than fully exuberant optimism in order to create greater balance in this area.

You have the potential to truly improve yourself in many areas of life this year so that you do well to take advantage of whatever opportunities come your way. There is likely to be an air of nobility and dignity in the way that you go about things, so that you might also be seen as wiser and more honorable by others.

Sun in weak square (forming, 7.5 degrees) with Pluto

The planetary energies conflict; internal and creative tensions bring rich rewards through effort over time.

With the Sun conjunct or in dynamic aspect to Pluto in your Solar Return chart, over the twelve-month period until your next birthday the emphasis is on your personal will and the manner in which you choose to use it.

This configuration indicates an intense year when many factors in your life could radically alter. You are plumbing your own depths and what you find might scare you at first until you come to better understand yourself. It is likely that learning the proper use of your willful nature could be a significant theme over the course of this year-long period. You have a strong will and urge to power at this time.

You might find yourself engaging in manipulative or even compulsive behavior. If so, the more you can grow your awareness of your hidden motivations for such behavior the better you can cope. You are being forced to address your own shadow side and this can be an intimidating prospect. If you are in the midst of this intense energy and not using it wisely you will eventually come to regret it. What you are after through all these changes is the eventual and complete transformation of some aspect of your personality.

You might experience some type of cataclysmic change or ending in a particular area of your life this year, perhaps as represented by the house position of the Sun. This would be in order to prepare for a form of renewal in this area.

This year could present you with an intense experience of dissolution and rebirth that can be difficult to handle while it is happening. If you have faith in your process you will come out on the other side of this period intact, and with magic, regeneration and integration to show for the depth of your inner journey.

Sun in weak conjunction (fading, 11.3 degrees) with Chiron

The strongest blend of the energies represented by these two planets.

With the Sun conjunct or in dynamic aspect to Chiron in your Solar Return chart, over the twelve-month period until your next birthday the emphasis is on your ability to heal old issues that have been a subliminal part of your reality.

You might find that this is a year when ancient issues stemming from a prior phase come up for recognition and for healing. These issues might have been walled away at an early age to avoid pain, and yet still form a part of your response to events that come too close and wind up triggering them. These could well involve lack of parental responsiveness or other painful circumstances of your early life. It may be that only now, in the present moment, with the perspective of time, you are able to finally look at these issues. If so, recognizing them and accepting them as a part of your make-up is at least half the battle, since no real progress can be made in the dark.

Your sense of purpose is dynamic and changing with the events of this year. It is more than likely that painful experiences will trigger such old wounds, but if so just being able to recognize that this is what is happening can be extremely valuable. Through renewed perspectives on old issues you might find the opportunity to help yourself heal through creativity and self-expression.

Your energy is variable this year; good when you are on the road of dealing positively with your experience and subdued when you are off-track. You will likely notice that your ability to love and give love is strengthened this year as a result of recognition and integration of these types of issues. It is through the power of love, including self-love, that old wounds are ultimately healed and you are able to reach out to others more whole of heart.

Moon in weak trine (forming, 7.2 degrees) with Mars

The planetary energies flow smoothly; the connection is easy and beneficial.

With the Moon in flowing aspect to Mars in your Solar Return chart over these twelve months leading up to your next birthday, your emotional emphasis is on integrating your instincts and security needs with your desires. You are also intent on taking the proper action to ensure total security for yourself.

This configuration indicates a volatile year when you're apt to experience situations that challenge your comfort level to some extent. Emotional engagement could be a hallmark of your experience.

The good news is that for this year you are endowed with a spectacular emotional courage that will not falter. You will have an easy access to this energy and fearlessly attack anything that threatens your sense of comfort.

It's likely that you will be able to use this enhanced passion to help or nurture someone - or some project - that requires direct action. In this case your emotional excitement and powerful feeling nature can be of great service to a larger plan. It is also the road to a better integration of these energies in your life.

Moon in weak opposition (fading, 8.2 degrees) with Neptune

The planetary energies are polarized; outer events stimulate their interaction; integration is the challenge.

With the Moon in dynamic aspect to Neptune in your Solar Return chart, over these twelve months leading up to your next birthday, your emotional emphasis is on gaining a deeper awareness of yourself at soul-level. You will likely experience some degree of dissolution of the boundaries between yourself and others and need to work through issues of illusion or even of outright deception.

The boundaries between the spiritual world and your own soul are so deeply connected right now that you might spend more time out of this world than in it. Your intuition is could also to be enhanced this year although you may have difficulty trusting in that. You might find that your feelings are confused, or embrace illusory notions that blur the distinction between your dreams and your insights, or you might suffer actual emotional deception or manipulation this year as a result of being dreamier than usual and more willing to blindly trust.

You also might be tempted to see potential or actual relationships through rose-colored glasses and therefore evade the reality of the situation, or in some other way escape what is really going on with you. It helps when you can consistently return to the rock-bottom truth of your own standpoint. This is not an obvious path since it might also be easy for you to attempt to avoid your innermost self or the truth of who you truly are. After working through these issues, you can use the gift of your enhanced sensitivity this year to extend compassion and understanding to people around you. When you feel the power of unconditional love you can both see someone for all that they are and then forgive and love them despite their flaws. Although you must guard against being taken advantage of, you are in an essentially beautiful space right now regarding the world and those that you encounter in it.

Moon in weak opposition (forming, 8.5 degrees) with Chiron

The planetary energies are polarized; outer events stimulate their interaction; integration is the challenge.

With the Moon in dynamic aspect to Chiron in your Solar Return chart, over these twelve months leading up to your next birthday, your emotional emphasis is on tuning in to your instincts in a positive way to promote healing, in spite of issues that might arise. Emotional woundings from the past could come up for you and your challenge is to move beyond your original hurt and to understand yourself much better at your deeper levels.

Your emotions might be intensified dramatically this year. Painful issues could arise within the areas of relationship in particular, and with parental nurturing you received or its lack. You might also have a difficult time drawing boundaries between yourself and others. You are being called to investigate old and perhaps dysfunctional patterns of relating. If you stick to the task, the eventual effect of all the attention that you are able to bring to this area will be greater self-reliance and a better acceptance of the feminine and nurturing side of yourself.

It is also possible for you to have a profound healing experience with your mother or an important female figure in your life over these twelve months. Wounds from prior associations that left you feeling raw, unsafe or not nurtured in some way could be released in a powerful catharsis. The positive manifestation of this energy you could also promote a healing relationship between those you nurture most in your own intimate relationships.

Over the course of a year of powerful emotional healing, and one in which your feelings are also enlivened by a growing sense of your spirituality, you have the potential of being able to make a better connection with your deeper needs and with the more integrated self within you that is struggling to emerge.

Venus in weak trine (fading, 7.6 degrees) with Jupiter

The planetary energies flow smoothly; the connection is easy and beneficial.

With Venus in flowing aspect to Jupiter in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday the emphasis is on expanding your consciousness through relating to others. There is also the potential for great benefit to come to you in certain areas of your life.

You will likely find gifts in relationship over the course of this year-long period. You might find a significant deepening in the level of intimacy you share with a current spouse or partner. If you are single, this year could bring you opportunity for love.

During this period you are likely to convey to others a strong sense of optimism. Your belief cannot be undermined right now in the simple basic truth of your feelings of love and happiness. This outlook will undoubtedly make you seem more attractive and charming to others. Your values are aligned with nobility and grace, so that your thoughts and emotions are imbued with a natural sense of spirituality.

You could very well receive a gift this year. It is also possible that your optimism will overflow in the area of your life represented by the position of Venus in either your Solar Return chart or your natal chart. You might need to be careful about spending more money than you can actually afford since you feel as though the sky is the limit. Still, this should not deter you from reaching for the brass ring. There is every possibility that this year, it's yours for the taking.

Venus in weak trine (fading, 7.8 degrees) with Pluto

The planetary energies flow smoothly; the connection is easy and beneficial.

With Venus in flowing aspect to Pluto in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday, the emphasis is on intensity in relationship, art and money situations. This is likely to be a year defined by unconscious forces and motivations - both your own and those of significant partners in your life.

If you are single you may become attracted to a new relationship this year. If you are in an existing relationship, the test of power between the two of you could become a crucial theme. You will likely experience greater emotional intensity than normally, and for a purpose; as you come to a deeper sense of intimacy with yourself and others, and a more fully established concept of your own self-worth, you will emerge with a better handle on your own personal power.

There could also be challenges to face in the form of financial ups and downs this year. You and potentially your partner may also be challenged over the course of this year-long period to come into some new way of being together with each other. If either of you are unwilling to go down and do some serious digging within your psyche then you will be encouraged by circumstances to do so.

In the course of this year you might each be able to realize that you are only limited by your own inability to trust and to allow true intimacy. Much can be done to encourage a more positive manifestation of your relationship energy as the year unfolds. You can truly experience the power and the magic of healing love.

Jupiter in weak conjunction (forming, 5.9 degrees) with Saturn

The strongest blend of the energies represented by these two planets.

With Jupiter conjunct Saturn in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday, the emphasis is on expansion in your life that is tempered with caution and obligation.

You are charging forward this year, but some way you can also expect to feel your efforts thwarted. This will likely force you to take a step back and more effectively plan out a course of action. Your faith in yourself and in your project might be sorely tried, but despite the limitations that cross you, over these twelve months you can still achieve phenomenal success. This happens by dint of hard work rather than the path of ease however.

There is the potential to achieve enduring and lasting growth over the course of this year-long period, since you are able to balance optimism with realism. This healthy outlook is a steadfast and realistic way to achieve your goals.

The potential pitfall this year for you is that you might swing back and forth on the pendulum of optimism and pessimism in specific areas of your life. You benefit by realizing that if you plan and do your work in a certain order that is called for, every step leads you closer to the ultimate prize. As long as you are willing to do the necessary work first, you will then be free to optimistically reach for the stars.

Saturn in weak square (forming, 4.5 degrees) with Uranus

The planetary energies conflict; internal and creative tensions bring rich rewards through effort over time.

SaturnUranus5

With Saturn conjunct or in dynamic aspect with Uranus in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday, there is an emphasis on re-examining the existing structures of your life. This is especially true if strong aspects from Saturn or Uranus exist also to the personal planets, Sun through Mars.

This configuration in your Solar Return chart indicates a year of change that is likely to be quite challenging. You may be called upon to tear down outworn patterns in order to build firmer, more fitting foundations for your existence that better correlate with who you are today.

The urge to radically resist authority and consensus thinking is dominant for you right now, and for good reason. Specific matters in your life that have been requiring systematic renovation will be up for absolute change for you over the course of this year. It's possible that you will choose to consciously disrupt existing stability in favor of a renewed vision of what life could represent for you.

The changes that are thrust upon you at this time are chaotic but only superficially. If you do wind up causing upheaval, it's apt to be done from a realistic rather than a reckless vantage point. You are likely to be well aware in some part of your psyche of what needs to be torn down and what should appropriately take its place.

In certain areas of your life, perhaps those that are indicated by the house position of Uranus, the constraints on your personal freedom might seem unduly onerous and need to be challenged. You may in fact demand a complete release from current restraints in order to go beyond previously conceived limitations that proved stifling.

One thing is for certain; in this year of change, the only authority that fully exists for you will be that of the structures that you alone choose, and that match your highest vision for yourself going forward.

Saturn in weak conjunction (fading, 6.1 degrees) with Pluto

The strongest blend of the energies represented by these two planets.

With Saturn conjunct Pluto in your Solar Return chart, over this twelve-month period until your next birthday there is an emphasis on understanding the limitations of your urge to be in command, including the power you really have to control the circumstances of your world. This is especially true if strong aspects from Saturn or Pluto exist also to the personal planets, Sun through Mars.

If you have the urge to dominate or to be in complete control, there could be issues simmering under the surface which are only now coming to light, as signaled by the presence of this configuration. This is a time when you might begin to be more obvious in your acting out, and when as a consequence you might also begin to transform your desire for control into a more integrated and normalized approach that allows healthy skepticism to replace the clenched fist of rebellion.

You may begin this period of time by feeling bitterly restricted in some capacity, as if the universe were stripping you to bare bones and forcing to do "do without.". The structure of your life is changing in some profound way, and this may frustrate you at first. Over the course of this year however, what you will learn is that this paucity is actually a blessing in disguise. You might discover how to take the most humble material setting and transform it into bounty through sheer will.

If you choose to dwell in your limits and your resentment, you might feel as if your back is against the wall and you cannot make a single move toward achievement. The only way forward is to let go of previous assumptions and allow change to flow through you more willingly.

The potential for you to reach enduring regeneration is high this year, but only by learning to work within the limits of your personal control and authority. When you do so, your progress is nothing less than awe-inspiring.

Glossary

Ascendant: The point in the sky of the Eastern horizon. In the chart, the Ascendant is represented by the horizontal line at the left hand side of the chart which crosses between the Twelfth and First Houses. The sign on the Ascendant is also referred to as the Rising Sign.

Aspects: When the relative positions of two planets in the horoscope form a significant angle with each other, they are said to be in aspect with one another. The type and quality of the aspect is determined by the number of degrees between the two planets and is only considered significant if it is within a narrow range of degrees, or orb. A list of the aspects used in this report is given below.

Conjunction — $0^{\circ} \pm 8$ degrees	Square — $90^{\circ} \pm 8$ degrees
Opposition — $180^{\circ} \pm 8$ degrees	Sextile — $60^{\circ} \pm 6$ degrees
Trine — $120^{\circ} \pm 8$ degrees	Inconjunct — $150^{\circ} \pm 4$ degrees

Chart Comparison: An astrological technique in which the planets of two individuals are shown in a bi-wheel chart, one within the other. This allows the inter-aspects between the two charts to be examined.

Composite Chart: An astrological technique in which the midpoints of two individuals' planetary positions are used to create a third chart, the composite chart, which is then interpreted as the chart of the relationship itself as an independent entity.

Horoscope: Originally horoscope referred to the astrological chart itself, but is now popularly used to refer to the description of how current planetary positions are affecting you personally, as in "your monthly horoscope."

Midheaven: The point in the sky directly overhead relative to the position on Earth. In the chart, the Midheaven is represented by the vertical line at the top of the chart between the Ninth and Tenth Houses.

Natal: From Latin, meaning of or pertaining to birth; therefore your birth chart, or planetary positions at birth.

Nodes: The Lunar Nodes are the two points where the Moon's orbital path crosses the plane of the ecliptic (the plane of the Earth's orbit around the Sun). Symbolically they represent talents and life path, or destiny.

Planets: In astrology, the word planets is used to describe astrologically significant points in the sky which includes the Sun and Moon, as well as many objects that are not currently astronomically defined as planets such as Chiron and Pluto.

Transits: Aspects formed between the current positions of the planets and the positions of your natal planets at the time and place you were born.
